

Pacific silverweed (area not specified)Scientific: Potentilla pacifica*Primary category:* Ground cover, flower*Habitat:* Not specified*Description (by Bosky Dell Natives):*

Low-growing perennial (6") with pinnately compound green leaves with silvery undersides. The yellow, saucer-shaped flowers appear late spring through summer.

Potentilla spreads very quickly and makes a lovely groundcover in moist areas.

Sun, regular water.

Images of Potentilla pacifica

bing.com/images

See all images >

Lewis and Clark's journal entries (by Bosky Dell Natives):